Hope you all enjoyed the club dinner, I heard it was a great success. Not wishing to steal the nominated reporters thunder I will let him tell you all about it and who carried off the trophies this year. (Report not yet received - better be there for the next issue Graham). It's getting near the holiday season, bringing with it the long orienteering weekends, make sure you get your entries in., e.g. SINS, White Rose, Scottish Champs, Scottish 6 Days & the Capricorn. Remember and take pen and paper with you!!

I'm sorry it's such a short Newstrack this month, but life's been a wee bit hectic for me recently. See you all at the British Weekend and then at SINS for the Club Weekend.

Alex.

Deadline For JUNE Newstrack Is 12th June

CHAIRMAN'S SPOT

It is with regret that I have to announce the retirement of our well organised, efficient, Hitler like equipment officer: Mr. John Birkin. John has been holding this post for as long as I can remember, 5 years I think! He recently announced his retirement from the sport and I would like to take this opportunity to thank him on behalf of the club for all his great ideas and hard work in looking after/ replacing our equipment. It says a lot for what John has achieved over the last 2 years, the fact that we are hoping to replace him with not one but two equipment officers. Volunteers to the committee please. This is URGENT !!!!! M: Thanks again to John and we wish him all the best in the future.

They are dropping like flies. I also have to announce that John Hawkins, after x years (3, I think) of holding down the post of Fixtures Sub Committee Chairman has asked if he can step down. Our thanks to John for organising our Fixtures Sub Committee for the last few years, anyone interested in this post should contact a committee member or John himself to discuss what is involved. Again we need to replace John very quickly.

Steve Kimberley.

COMPETITION

ANSWERS TO LAST MONTH'S COMPETITION

There were 5 areas melted together beautifully. From top left going clockwise they were:

KEDLESTON, CRICH, DARLEY ABBEY, CALKE PARK, STANTON MOOR

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Club Weekend Away

It's been arranged folks. This years great weekend away will be at SINS (Spring Time In Shropshire).

25 pitches have been booked in advance at a secret camp site in the area. £2 deposit to Christina as quick as possible to avoid disappointment, and let her know how many nights you intend to stay.

Summer Relays

A sequel to last years terrific day out at Cromford (over 100 DVO orienteers all together having a great time) is under-way. The format will be very similar, with perhaps different routes. We require volunteers for team leaders. Names to any committee member please.

SPORTS PERSONALITY

I've been busy with work these last two months and have therefore heard very little of the usual escapades of the great DVO orienteers. However, one story I did overhear, and is well worth this months prize, was of a rather unusual error by Paul Wright or should he be known as Paul Wrong from now on! On arriving at checkpoint 5 in a recent event Paul realised that the next checkpoint was too difficult to go hell for leather at and with no obvious attack points he pulled out his trusty, rusty, cracked, bubble designed COMPASS. Spent a few seconds setting up the bearing, looked up, fixed on a point in the distance, headed off counting every second step, 1,2,3,6,7,9.... Stopped, checked the compass and carried on. His bearing was so accurate that he fell over the control just as he got to 273, his estimated pace count for the distance (bang on). He pulled himself up and looked at the control code, "That looks familiar" he thought to himself. Aaaargh, it was checkpoint 4 !!!

DEAR ED.

Please thank everyone concerned for my lovely trophy!

Sue

(Our pleasure Sue: a worthy winner of the trophy Ed.)

Dear Ed,

The East Midlands is hosting a NATIONAL EVENT on the 29th November 1992. Entries and Results will be done by the Godfrees. We would like early volunteers for Planner and Organiser and perhaps volunteers for assistants to the two posts. A great opportunity to learn more about organising and planning the big events.

John Hawkins

Dear Ed,

Although totally irrelevant to Orienteering, the following might be re-assuring to some NEWSTRACK readers: "Notes regarding parental contribution to student grants (courtesy of Derbyshire County Council). NO CONTRIBUTION IS EXPECTED FROM YOUR PARENTS IF YOU ARE AN ORPHAN."

Tony Seaston

Dear Ed,

Anyone fancy a 100ft abseil off a bridge! Give me a call on 0283 216507.

Nigel Atkins

Dear Ed,

If anyone has come across a sleeveless Body Warmer, green & waxed, it's mine!!

Dave Brodie

Dear Ed,

'O' Stall

Dear Ed,

St. Mary's Roman catholic School in Chesterfield are holding a Sports Day one Saturday in June and have asked DVO if we could supply an orienteer (or two) to run a stall and talk to people about Orienteering.

Anyone interested in this worthwhile job (promoting our sport) contact STEVE KIMBERLEY on 0246 233575

Steve.

Dear Ed,

The committee would like to offer our thanks to Deborah Wilkinson for repairing our Club Tent. Thanks Deb.

The Committee

Dear Ed,

Please remind everybody that the next DVO AGM will be held in September and that the committee needs to receive all nominations for committee posts and any proposed amendments to the constitution well in advance of the meeting. This is so that they can be published and distributed with NEWSTRACK prior to the AGM.

The committee

Dear Ed,

I would like to say a BIG THANKYOU to all the Team Leaders, DVO members, friends and families who worked so hard on Sunday 31st March, and made Day 2 of J.K.91 the success that it was.

Many of you manned your positions for long hours in "not quite" ideal conditions, I hope you all thought it worthwhile in the end.

After many pre-day worries about the organisation not coping with four thousand competitors, I was able, on the Sunday night, to sleep peacefully in the knowledge that once again DVO had produced another winning performance.

Thanks once again!

Dave Walker.
(Day2 Organiser)

Dear Ed,

IS IT TRUE that John Hawkins was seen doing an "Alf Tupper" and eating fish and chips before his Saturday JK run?

IS IT TRUE that this same person was seen wearing a suit and tie in the finish field on the Sunday?

IS IT TRUE that Dave Brodie - the JK supremo, co-ordinator extraordinair, the man who thinks of everything - put his £300 camera on the ground at Day1 of the JK and then proceeded to leave without it?

IS IT TRUE that Sue Russell's training kit has a hole in a very embarrassing place?

IS IT TRUE that NOC's Phil Pittson, who had been helping with the JK computer - went home ill with a computer virus?

ROCKY KNOLL in THE SIGN OF THE SPORRAN PART IV

The story so far.....Both the British and the JK have been sabotaged by an unknown body using the sign of the Sporrán as its symbol. BOF Agent Rocky Knoll is on the trail but has made no progress except to uncover the mysterious disappearance of top map maker Jock McHarvey. BOF suspect that somebody is trying to get the IOF to withdraw its invitation to Wales to stage the prestigious European Championships. Knoll is called into BOF HQ.....

'O' looked like a man who hadn't slept for a week. His manner was terse. I slipped into the chair facing his desk. "What's going on, Knoll?" he boomed, his BOF cufflinks clinking as he slammed his fists down. "We've had the British swarming with security men and we still can't stop this Sporrán tomfoolery. I've got the IOF breathing down my neck wanting assurances of no more funny business and here we are looking stupid. What I want to know Knoll, is what are you going to do about it?"

He was sweating profusely. I'd seen this sort of thing before, so I knew not to get ruffled. I flicked through the pile of magazines on his desk thinking hard. Thumb Compass Weekly, Bramble Basher Gazette, Punch. "I'm going to speak to Hole again" I said. "Maybe he's remembered something, anything, that can help us". 'O' looked grim. "He's been worse than useless so far. Almost impossible to get hold of as well, living right out in the sticks miles from anywhere without a phone". It was true, the life of three times British Champion Stan Hole was anything if not rather eccentric. He lived in a remote crofters cottage in the Scottish hills, where he trained over the toughest terrain he could find and worked as a part time map maker. He didn't actually know anything about the sabotaged maps, although we had managed to ask him a few questions after his run at the British Championships. Perhaps there was something more...."I'm leaving straight away" I said, picking up my hat.

The Robin couldn't make it up the last 200 metres of muddy track leading to Hole's cottage. Low cloud swept across the hillside, and the air felt wet. I pulled my raincoat tighter and plodded towards the front door. As I did so, it opened and a figure clad in wet weather running gear stepped out. It was Hole. He saw me immediately and strode down the path. "What do you want?" he called, somewhat threateningly, "I'm going out, I haven't got time for anything now". I took my hat off. "Knoll, from BOF" I said, "I need to talk to you as soon as possible". He peered at me suspiciously. "Hmmm, I do recognise you from somewhere, but I'm going training now. Tell you what, I'll meet you afterwards at the Inveradram Hotel. It's on the road to Auchterbether round the other side of the forest. Oh, and it'll help me if you take this there for me". He threw over a small daysack. "See you in a couple of hours".

I drove back down the rutted track, the Robin lurching alarmingly. Consulting the road atlas, I located our point of rendezvous and decided to wait in the Hotel bar, rather than on this forsaken hillside. The journey took longer than I had expected, and it was a good half hour later that I finally made it to the (slightly more) major road leading to the Hotel beneath the huge pines of the mature forest sloping up the hillside. As I drove I suddenly caught sight of two figures standing beneath one of the trees about 100 yards away. What really caught my eye was the orienteering control next to them. I quickly pulled over, the car hidden from them, and jumping out, watched carefully. As I did, Hole came into view, running diagonally across the hillside towards the control, consulting a map. With the smooth style that marks a great orienteer, he effortlessly approached the control, punched in a continuous movement, and then to my great surprise, threw his map down and took something from the two men, presumably another map. He then moved off up the hill again, consulting the new map, and was soon lost to view. One of the two men then picked up Hole's map, slapped the other cheerfully across the back, and together they began walking down towards the road. The fact that they were both dressed in heavy overcoats was peculiar. I could now see their faces quite clearly but they were unfamiliar to me. Something told me I ought to stay hidden from them so I remained crouched down in the bracken while they picked their way down to the road about 50 metres further on where presumably their car had been parked just off the road. I heard it roar away into the distance.

An hour later I was sitting in the bar of the Inveradram Hotel. Hole came into the hotel bar and sat down opposite. I tossed his bag over. He pulled out a sweatshirt and put it on. "What do you want to know?" I hesitated. Should I ask him about the two men in the forest? I chose not to initially. We talked generally for a few minutes. The bar door opened and closed with a bang. It was the two men from the forest. Hole glanced casually at them but his face betrayed no recognition. "Do you know them?" I asked, trying to offer no particular interest. Hole didn't even hesitate. "No", he replied in a bored tone, "No, we get a lot of visitors just passing though, probably just tourists". They didn't much look like tourists to me, but there was no evidence to suggest that Hole was lying about not recognising them. He seemed genuinely uninterested in them, and quite relaxed about my query. Either he was a brilliant actor or.....the mystery was deepening even further.....he was drugged or hypnotised. From his demeanour I guessed the latter. Even as I was thinking the bar door banged again. I looked up and my eyes met a familiar face. The eyes of the familiar face met mine and gave a startled reaction. They were the eyes of someone I had not expected to see here. I was looking into the eyes of map maker extraordinaire Toby Beeswick!

What is Toby Beeswick doing in the wilds of Scotland?

Has Stan Hole been hypnotised?

Since when has Punch been an orienteering magazine?

Read on in next in the next issue of NEWSTRACK.

THE 1991 DVO SUMMER LEAGUE

It's back! Bigger, better, even more confusing, and this year there's real prize! Yes, two big silver cups for the man and woman who by some strange quirk of the scoring system, become SUMMER LEAGUE CHAMPIONS. Mike Gardner and Christina Wright defend their titles. The whole of Derbyshire holds its breath.

To remind (or initiate) you, Summer League Events are held on Friday evenings from April through to July. They start at 6.30 pm, although you can usually turn up at any time till 7.30 pm and get a run. There will be a small entry fee to cover the cost of the map.

the emphasis is FUN, not necessarily conventional orienteering. The main course each week should test your orienteering skills in some way, but be prepared for anything? There will also be a shorter/simpler course for younger children.

The scoring system this year will be as follows:

MEN: 12 points for 1st place, 10 points for 2nd, and then 9,8,7.....down to 2 points for 10th place. Everybody attending receives at least 1 point.
WOMEN: 6 points for 1st place, 4 point for 2nd, then 3 and 2 points for 3rd and 4th. Again everyone attending receives at least 1 point.

However, there's more! A handicap system applies which penalises whoever is leading the league at a given moment in time. The following percentage handicaps apply for the leaders.

MEN Leader 36%, 2nd place 30%, then down in 3% steps to 6% for 10th place.

WOMEN Leader 36%, 2nd place 24%, then down in 6% steps to 6% for 5th place.

Anyone who organises and event automatically gets 12 points. So you can see, it's quite simple!!

British Night Championships

Not many DVO members are mad enough for Night Orienteering, however a few of us turned up for the British Nights at Hagley Park & Clent. I travelled down with Tony Berwick the Great Grandfather of Night 'O'. A record number of mistakes (4) caused a total of approx. 18 mins lost time and dropped me down to 15th place in M21L (22 minutes down). A disappointing run, but enjoyable.

Chris Godfree was 4th in M15A and Big Brother, who was seen loitering around the finish (obviously had a good run and wanted to talk about it), was just pipped for first place. Daddy was 3rd in M40S and our hero Tony enjoyed himself, finishing 14th in M50L.
