Hello again! This last year as your Newstrack Editor seems to have flown in. Time to choose the new Reporter of the Year, Graham will be glad to get rid of the monstrosity he has hidden in the cupboard behind the sheets. The unlucky winner will be announced at the Club Dinner along with several other serious/amusing awards. Unfortunately the club members either forgot or couldn't be bothered nominating each other for some of the awards, hence a sub-committee was set up to decide who the ~~unlucky~~ lucky winners are. You will be pleased to read that I will not be there this year to give another boring speech, instead you will have the honour of listening to your esteemed Chairman as he dishes out the awards.

My thanks to everyone who has contributed to the Club Magazine over the years, I couldn't have done it without you! In particular I would like to thank Catherine for all her hours of help in typing the articles.

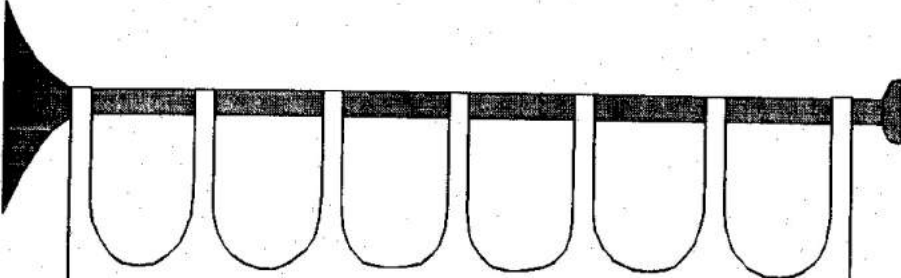

Alex.

Deadline For April Newstrack Is 12th April

CHAIRMAN'S SPOT

Each of the following were written on the spot and no alterations have been made by myself. (Though I can't guarantee what the newstrack editor might do) I still have the originals, (for legal purposes you understand). The very clever amongst you may have noticed that we did in fact only go to six pubs, perhaps you might be with us next time when we go for the magic seven!

DVO pub crawl Belper

Cast of players: Peter and Mary Jones, Paul and Christina Wright, Mike and Cathy Gardner, Robert and Gwyneth Shooter, Glenis Cave, Ian Whitehead, Graham Johnson, Steve Wilson, Richard Walker(who?), John Hurley, and Steve Kimberley.

Pub 1. Riflemans Arm Rating 2 beer glasses
Reporter: Paul Wright

Everyone met in the usual dribs and drabs at the Riflemans Arms. The Pub looks like a typical spit and sawdust one from the outside but more like a trendy wine bar inside. Fairly quiet but it was still before eight. Terrible video jukebox ignored by everyone.

Pub 2. Lord Nelson Rating 2 beer glasses
Reporter: Graham Johnson

I don't know whether its an omen but on leaving the last pub I sent two glasses flying with my coat, and that was after only one pint. I insisted that I was cone stold cober!

If the last one fell into the wine bar category, this one goes in the pseudo-Tudor pigeon hole, all oak beams and artex. It does have an Elizabethan pool table where we are being roughly entertained by Steve and Ian - who apparently are on the same side.

Where does everyone go in Belper on a Saturday night. This is the second nearly deserted hostelry. Perhaps someone warned them that the DVO pub crawl was coming. Whoops there goes another glass.

Pub 3. The George Rating 5 car plugs
Reporter: Steve Kimberley

If the writing is not clear its because it's so dark, yes another disco pub, dark, noisy and horrible. I don't think we will stay here long. The atmosphere has already affected Ian though, he's offered to dance with Paul. By the way we will not be going in the Duke of Devonshire. Christina has decided that as a matter of principal we should not go to a pub that has topless barmaids even if they won't be there today. PS. Mary denies all. Graham likes the upholstery he suggests it might be tasty as it has quite a few bite holes in it. Question: Why has Graham sat himself in the only red light area in the pub? Paul says that the average age in the pub has gone up by ten years, I can't help it if he is old! We are now going, thankfully, on to the Lion.

Pub 5. (aborted)

!!!! this is Christina's comment on the fact that the Duke of Devonshire should be the next pub.

Pub 6. The Lion Rating 3 beer glasses
Reporter: rumoured to be Robert Shooter

Finally found where it's all happening in Belper. The wobbly writing is a result of the previous four pubs but the cramped space by the door. Can't get to the bar yet! Steve is now explaining the rules of writing this report. Apparently I have to slander everyone. Steve threatens violence if anyone violates these rules.

Overheard: "Everyone's moving to another room"
 "I've lost my wife" Mike Gardner
 "For how long" was the reply
 "A long time"

Ian seen buying drinks for two ladies of dubious repute.

Conversation turns to past pub crawls (Ian and Steve). Record to beat six pubs (organised by John - who else), apparently Ian was taken home by a lady, he boasts!!!

Quote from John H "I like to interact with at least half of them"

Competition to what John was referring to - winner gets a night at the George, second place gets two nights.

Pub 7. The Railway Rating ???
Reporter: rumoured to be Christina Wright (but actually Mary Jones)

Well, we've really hit the bright lights of Belper now - The Railway. Plenty of space here. Just a few people in one corner, we've instantly doubled the numbers just by walking in! "very parochial" comments Steve looking round the lounge. Everyone's drinking rate seems to have been revived. I can confidently state at this stage in the proceedings that I am (hic) the only (hic) sober person left, able to hold my drink. I'm being reminded at this point to inform avid DVO readers of the star status of this hostelry, though a few have already been suggested:- "Mock plywood" "wartime station waiting room" Steve K informs us that male stripping feature at this pub every Saturday night, but denies being regular.

Pub 8. The Spreadagle
John Hurley

By this time of night, the trivia is a cast aside and we are down to the important issues

a) Does the Pub sell Marstons Pedigree?

Yes, it does.

b) Does the jukebox have "Paranoid" by Black Sabbath?

Yes it does

And so the further proceedings can be simply deduced

later on..... 11 Bowler Drive, Kilburn
Reporter: Kath Whitehead

11.45pm Saturday: Well, what a sight! 4 drunk men in my kitchen - one staggers home, one requests "where's Anne" followed by "you've got three eyes Kath" - departs to bed. Rumour has it finds bathroom at 2am to Two remaining persons find beds and sleep.

4.00am Jessica wakes, Ian doesn't - I'm not pleased.

6.00am Jessica wakes, Ian doesn't - now getting cross

8.00am All present and correct downstairs for cooked breakfast.

8.05am Ian returns to bed - he must be bad - he's refused food!

p.s. Just seen an apparition - Ian! What a sight.

THIS MONTH'S COMPETITION

DVOers have been submitting competitions for Newstrack for the last year but the total number of entries for all competitions can be counted on two hands and to date only two prizes have ever been won.

This months competition has a prize of a bottle of wine or a six pack of pepsi depending on age!

How many DVO areas make up this map and name those areas?

SPORTS PERSONALITY

It was suggested that we should award this prize to someone outside DVO this month, namely Robin Harvey. Why? I hear you say, well, he supplied our planner with copies of Shining Cliff and Crich Chase on time but unfortunately hadn't noticed that the scale was out by about 10% (1:11000 - I think). Don't panic I think this means that we will all have slightly shorter courses to run at the JK than was intended - hooray!

Another contender was John Hawkins our Elite Orienteer. For the first time in a long long while I beat John on an M21 course, actually I thrashed him by 10 minutes. However, I was sure there would be some excuse for it but I wasn't expecting what he told me - HE RAN OFF THE MAP, crossing a fence and thinking it was a PATH! running up hill when he should have been going downhill. This was while trying to find the second control at Beaudesert.

However, neither of the above are a patch on this months winner. He regularly appears in this column but often fails to claim the No.1 spot. He did it this time: Mr. Johnson turned up at the Drumhill Night Event with plenty of time to spare. He wandered up to the start only to realise that he had come without stub and compass. Off he went trotting back to the car and came back for a second attempt, oops - he had his compass but had forgotten the stub. Off he went jogging back to the car and came back for a third attempt, oops - in picking up his stub he left the map behind! Off he went sprinting back to the car and came back for a fourth attempt, oops - no stub!! The official, thinking that Graham was about to sit down and cry, felt sorry for him and gave him a new start time and let him go without handing in the stub! Well done Graham!!

DEAR ED.

Dear Ed,
Are we really trusting the right people with major orienteering jobs, Dave Brodie (JK91 coordinator) was overheard recently asking another orienteer if they went to a certain event the previous weekend and how they got on, Dave seemed surprised to hear that HE had given that person a lift to the aforementioned event in HIS car! lets hope he doesn't forget more important things, like in which year the EM JK is!

enthusing about the disgusting conditions, now they've even volunteered to 'do' the toilets at our future events, organisers take note?

Reuter!

Dear Ed
I am perplexed! - "Give me a map and I'm magic! - I've certainly seen many orienteers being given a map but never have I seen a rabbit produced from someone's 'O' bottoms or a ferret.

Danielle Pauls

Dear Ed,
I have it on good authority that an ancient breed of orienteer is close to extinction, it now appears that Roger

Wilkinson has lost his grip on the sport after injuring his hand (on a new sport-crag dangling) and Zoe has gone down with a sympathetic reaction.

Anon

Dear Ed,
May I draw the attention of the female members of DVO to the activities of SLOG (Shipley Ladies Orienteering Group) We meet on Thursdays at about 9.30 am at the visitors centre in Shipley Park. We pay £1.00 each and this includes 'A CRECHE'! Beginners and experts equally welcome as are older children in the school holidays. In the summer we offer picnics in the park afterwards and a good time is had by all! Once a month we meet at another local course so ring me on Derby 833508 if you would like to come

Jill Dury

P.S. Is there any chance of anyone mapping the other bits of Shipley park? It would be warmly welcomed by the sloggers...

Dear Ed,
Does 'tayloring' your run to suit your abilities, mean the same as 'retiring'?

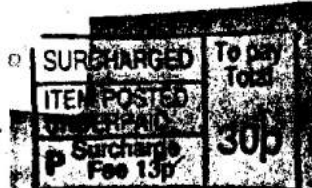

Curious of Swanick

Worried Youlgreave.
Dear Ed
It has been reported that some of our lady members have been doing some noble tough training, not only was it wet, windy, muddy, physically hard and a weekend long but it was in Wales of all places, Sue Russell and Viv MacDonald were positively

Dear Ed,
Thanks for latest Newstrack which arrived in attached envelope. Isn't this taking the "Canny Scot" thing a bit far?! (In fact, we didn't have to pay.)

Lynette Gilligan

Just trying it out to see if we could get away with it. Ed.

LOW ALCOHOL ORIENTEERING

Yes, I support the Campaign for Real Orienteering. Sunlit open forests, contours like the Greenland weather map, long legs where you have to concentrate, route-choices where the choice actually matters.... But, like Whatmole's Olde Extraordinary, I can only take it in small doses. As an ageing M21 who gets bundled off stiles at National Events because I climb them too slowly, for the average Sunday I need Low Alcohol Orienteering. So, how can you identify this low alcohol product?

- 1) I can drive to the event in 30 minutes or less
- 2) The car park can be used in January
- 3) The start is next to the car park
- 4) The finish is next to the car park
- 5) The car park is next to the pub
- 6) The map is old enough, or vague enough, to be a good excuse for the embarrassing errors I always make at these events

What else? oh yes, the terrain and the course. Well, the terrain doesn't really matter very much, as long as there is at least one good bit which the course should go into as many times as possible. And the course shouldn't delay me for more than 75 minutes.

So there we have it. Low Alcohol Orienteering - an ideal Sunday pastime for all the family. The problems come from Low Alcohol Badge events (I've been to several of those in the last few years) and, perish the thought, Low Alcohol National Events. At least we can be confident that the Co-ordinator won't permit a Low Alcohol JK91.

As a final thought, which East Midlands area fits my Low Alcohol description most closely? Calke Park? Walsby? Allestree Park? Thieves Wood? Linacre Woods? No it can't besurely not Linacre Woods?.....Aaagh

Peter Jones

An Extract From Matlock Athletic Clubs' Magazine.

As an interesting alternative to running along the A6, the last Thursday in November saw the first, and probably not the last, head torch illuminated cross country training run. This entertaining run was enjoyed by all participants and similar runs are already being planned. More runners with head torches would be appreciated. The evenings procedure were further enhanced by what has to be the quote of the month from Hon Treasurer, JOHN ARMISTEAD, who stated that it was 'safer to run back over the fields from Bonsall than run on the road'. Having been outvoted the party returned on the road but under duress compromised with the aforementioned gentleman of the hills by running down the last field above the station. On entering the field he immediately fell flat on his back into a huge cow pat. His only comment was "Oh ST".

Courtesy of Lynette Gilligan

(She thought this was rather amusing as John was organising a race advertised to start near the SEWAGE WORKS!!)

[My thanks to Matlock Athletic Clubs Editor for allowing us to re-print the above article - Ed.]

RIVELIN 30-12-90

This final event of the year was attended not only by hundreds of overfed orienteers but also by large quantities of wind and snow. The ground itself was very wet and streams larger than they should have been. The extreme conditions resulted in a high retiral rate on most courses. Despite the conditions I chose to run the brown course. Luckily for me the weather wasn't too harsh on the moor and it didn't start snowing until I was leaving the second master-maps.

I knew I had had a good run but it was still a bit of a shock to find out I'd won when the results came a few days later. The most pleasing thing was that the Ed was second, 24 seconds down.

Not a good day for DVO judging by the results. Here are a few of the better ones:

BADGE/NATIONAL EVENTS

IGHTHAM BADGE EVENT, Sunday 16 December.

Mid-December and it's time to start the pre-Christmas round of visiting friends and relatives in the South-east. A quick look at the fixtures list in Compass Sport shows that, if we arrange our overnight stops and meals judiciously, we can fit in an event on Sunday morning near Sevenoaks, where we have friends. We just managed to meet the closing date and Sunday morning saw us - rather bleary eyed after a long day driving and a late night on Saturday - approaching the National Trust property at Ightham Mote, just outside Sevenoaks.

We had to be bussed to the start and, as a result of very narrow country lanes, the mini-buses insisted on travelling in convoy - thus confirming everyone's beliefs about London buses! Whilst this caused timing problems for some, we had left ourselves plenty of leeway. The planners from Croydon Orienteering Club obviously had problems setting routes as in August a large part of the area had been designated a SSSI and major restrictions on its use were placed on them. This meant that there were basically four separate areas of deciduous woodland and the longer courses had to jump between them via a double crossing of the extremely busy A25 or along paths and tracks between fields.

However, it was most enjoyable orienteering, with largely straightforward navigating and fairly easy running. Viv entered the W35B and came 4th out of 8, whilst I came 6th out of 23 in the M35B, thus gaining my 3rd Silver time of this year!

Pile on to the minibuses back to the cars, a quick drink and off on the next round of visits, hoping that someone will let us have a shower fairly soon - for their sakes as well as ours!

Ronald Macdonald

PS. As Viv and I were the only DVO participants in this event, I thought that I'd better write my first report for Newstrack (well we have only been orienteering since January 1990!), and for once we had the honour of being the top DVO competitors in our classes, and that isn't going to happen very often!

PARK HALL 20-1-91

For some reason PTOC had kept quiet about this event. Park Hall is on the outskirts of Stoke less than an hours drive from Derby. It is not, admittedly, the most attractive part of the world but the orienteering is very good. The old sandstone quarries and slag heaps give complex contours and the short grass means very fast times. Although a badge event, a master-map system was in use.

Being a nutter I decided 9km on the M17 and M19 weren't long enough, even though I'd run a cross country race the day before, so I opted for M21L. 12km and 76 minutes later I definitely regretted this decision. Overall I had a good run and was pleased to have finished. I was even more pleased when the results came. I knew I had done well but I didn't expect to come 2nd!

(Please note John Hawkins has had a sex change in order that he might, at long last, achieve Championship Standard, in W21. She now wishes to be known as Joan. Ed.)

I noticed that there were no event reports for either Burbage Moor or Haggsdale. I was dragged along to those by Chris who was desperate to get two more Gold time before going up to M13. He did too!

BURBAGE MOOR

The less said about Burbage Moor the better as far as I am concerned! The weather was awful, hail and wind. I spent 20 minutes hunting for number 3 in the wrong place with a another woman who had made the same mistake. It is always more difficult to recognise a mistake when someone else has done it too.

HAGGSIDE

This was another story. Kind weather and beautiful scenery. I actually completed my course this time! However in my class there were 4 DVO ladies who came 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 7th - guess who let the side down!! It was a physically demanding area I found, up and down all these gullies and small valleys. I'm not very fit at present and found difficulty walking upstairs on the Monday! I started off well and hit the first control bang on - a good feeling. However, I was stopped twice on the way to the 2nd by lost juniors, - perhaps a reflection on their courses. I thought Chris's was very technical for M11A, but he surprised me by getting round in a reasonable time. Does anyone else find the heavy contours on MDOC's maps rather trying?

Good DVO results.

OTHER EVENTS

KARRIMOR INTERNATIONAL MOUNTAIN MARATHON - 1990

A beautiful setting at Kinloch Rannoch was spoiled slightly by the persistent rain over the weekend. However, not even the rain could ruin it!

After several stops all over the country we all set off from Crewe station in the Renault Espace (bags of room). We stopped off at Penrith where John Broadhead, my partner, recommended the chippie where you could get superb chip butties and cumberland sausage and chips, unsure which to choose I bought them both followed by 'millionaires shortbread' from the bakers round the corner. PIG!

Being expert orienteers we deliberately missed our turning at the Pass of Killiecrankie and chose the much more scenic (longer) route through Glen Errochty. We found a little tea house in the middle of nowhere. The wee old wifey must have got the shock of her life as we descended on her. Everything in her house had tags on it including our seats and table - everything she owned was classified as antique and up for sale!!

Finally we made it, in the dark, to Loch Rannoch and the campsite. We pitched the spare tent and checked in! Then, off to the pub for a few beers and a hearty meal. Good preparation for the next two days rambling over the wee hills!!

John and I had entered the SCORE EVENT which is best suited to orienteers. We took our time working out our route for Day 1 and decided to go for everything near by and leave ourselves an option at the far end depending on how we were doing.

When decision time came we decided to miss out the easy 70 point control and go for the 160 points to be had for climbing up the ridge near the finish. We had made the right choice as we crossed the finish in 5 hours 50 minutes (10 mins) to spare. We were obviously pleased with ourselves as we had visited all the controls except one. However 3 teams had visited all the controls and 14 teams had only missed one. Unfortunately our missing control was the most expensive and at the end of day 1 there were 40 other teams with the same or more points than us. We camped and settled down to eat and drink everything we had except the breakfast food and the bars of chocolate and muesli for Day 2. Early rise, quick breakfast, pay a visit, pack away wet tent and off the start for Day 2 - 5 minutes to spare.

We decided on similar tactics for Day 2 and went for all the controls nearby and ran out of steam as we neared the finish area, just enough time to crawl up the path for a last 30 points before the final control at the finish - 4 hours 58 minutes (2 minutes to spare). Our timing had been perfect on both days.

We were surprised to find we had clawed our way up to 18th overall. Many of the pairs who had been ahead of us overnight opted for the long run (10 miles) on Day 2 to the far end, with no controls on the way, in order to pick up the controls with greater points. They obviously over estimated their fitness.

We bumped in to other DVO members who were as mad as us (you have to be mad to take part in a Mountain Marathon in Scotland at the end of October).

David Skidmore and Fiona Palmer - They have a habit of coming in late at Karrimors, losing valuable points but still scraping their certificate by hanging onto maximum of 250 points. This year was no exception with Dave and Fiona getting 240 points on Day 1, with only 10 points required on Day 2, they collected 100 points from the controls they visited but came in late and incurred 82 penalty points, hanging on to the certificate by 8 points (258pts).

John Armistead and Neil Forrest were 60th with 506 points (16th in Veteran Handicaps).

Ted Smith and Alan Springett were 76th with 407 points (24th in Veteran Handicaps).

Ann Armistead and Helen Finlayson were 129th in Class C1 with a time of 10:37:36 (44th in Veteran Handicap)

Please could you let me know if there are any problems. Also please let me know your preferred running orders, ie. whether you want to run leg 1, 2, or 3.

Finally seniors owe me (cheques to DVO please or cash) £4.50 each and juniors £2.50 each. If you cannot run try to find someone to take your place - otherwise you will not only be letting two other people down, but will still owe me for your entry fee!
