EDITORIAL

I've had a fantastic response to my request for contributions.
Many thanks to all those who responded, I just hope I can fit them all in.

Our last CompassSport Cup match against South Yorkshire was a very close thing (see report later) Congrats to all counters.
All the National Events are now over till the autumn, and I've had another bad British, although the moving control was not my fault. We have the Mammoth and White Rose weekends to look forward to in the summer and of course the Manchester Challenge on July 5th. Many of the legs on the latter are longer and steeper than given in the details. I just hope the weather is better than it was on the day I went to survey my leg (and failed). Thanks again to Lynette Gilligan for typing most of the newsletter.

Club Competition

This month's competition is for 10's and under. Please colour and illustrate Chris Gilligan's drawing. Send to me by end of July.

April Competition Results

There was a good response to the planning competition. The main criticism of all courses was that legs were too long and control sites too obscure. Caroline thought that Paul Seaston's course was the best so he wins this month's Mars Bar. O.K. Paul? Maps will be returned to entrants with comments in due course.

Club News

The club's A.G.M will be held on Wednesday 24th September at Steve and Judy Buckley's house, 253 Duffield Road, Allestree, Derby at 8.0 p.m. All members welcome. If you have items for the agenda please inform the Minutes Secretary, Andy Thomson, phone Ripley 47781.

The next two business meetings will be held on Wednesday 3rd Sept and Wednesday 1st October at Debbie and Roger Wilkinson's, 20 Castle Hill, Duffield at 8.0 p.m. Meetings are open to all members and are preceded by a run at 7.0 p.m. (These business meeting can be quite entertaining. At the one held in April our distinguished chairman posed this intriguing question: "Do we seriously want to look into toilet tents?")

Comments from the Organiser, Planner and Handicapper:

Firstly, I must say I was hugely disappointed by the number of bribes I received. I only undertook the job with these in mind and none materialised.

Secondly I'd like to thank Paul Seaston and John Hurley for their help before and on the day, as well as all the others who helped with the start and finish.

Handicapping is an art form. However, one of my first considerations was to make sure that no one finished before the last starter went off. Also, with an evening event in mind the start times have to be restricted due to it getting dark, (and I didn't fancy night 0 round the crags of Shining Cliff). This all meant that some of the slower long course runners were a little behind the winners. Sorry about this. Anyway I hope you all enjoyed your run in the early evening sunshine (arranged, of course) and it only remains for me to congratulate this year's club champion, Roger Wilkinsonand wish him luck organising next year's event!!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I have had a response from Ian Whitehead to Dave Walker's letter

Dear Ed.,

I take Dave Walker's point and totally agree with his comments and sentiments. However a word of explanation. I had several medals left over on the day, and I thought the best thing to do was present them to those team leaders who had put that little bit extra into running the event. I still have about 30 unclaimed medals. Shall I draw lots for presentation to all the other helpers?

EVENT REPORTS

NOC Relays 11th May

It rained and it rained. The NOC Relays took place on a new area: Welbeck College. It was a mixture of parkland and patches of woodland. A number of interesting features were on the map, uncovered tunnels, all the various obstacles on the assault course, and numerous buildings. Unfortunately there are no maps available to consult, this is due to the control cards being part of the map and handed in at the finish.

"Handed in" may not be the most appropriate word. There were 10 legs on the long relay ranging from 1.1km to 2.7km in length. There was also a master-map system. As there were 10 different legs this would not have been too much of a problem, but, as mentioned earlier, it rained. Having to keep ten maps dry was bad enough before the start, but trying to draw up the master maps soon meant shouts of "Anyone got another pen?" and "It's easier to put a hole in the paper" resounding from the direction of the master maps. To make matters worse the map itself had the control card at the bottom of it and trying to punch the map and keep it dry became an exercise in itself. Eventually the maps began to disintegrate and most courses became a map memory exercise. I don't know why but the control descriptions seemed better equipped to deal with the rain.

My abiding memory is running across an area of open as the map fell into 4 bits. A bundle of papeai mashai (the linguists among us would spell it papier mache, Ed.) was handed in at the finish. God knows how they did the results. This type of relay can be great fun in the dry or even in the wet if you can transpaseal your card and have pre-marked maps. So please let's have pre-marked maps next time.

Cromford Moor 18th May

'HOW NOT TO DO AN ORANGE COURSE'

After four events (one white and three yellow) with three certificate times behind me I thought I was improving so I decided to do an orange course. At Cromford Moor it was a 2.6 km course with only 30 m climb.

I started off and drew my controls, climbed the stile then had to go back to mark where the start was. Having worked out the way to go I then went down the wrong path and in front of me, where my control (H8) should be, was (Y2)! Oh dear! Back up to the first path leading off I went thinking I had missing something and up this path I eventually found my number 4 (H9).

Perhaps it would be better to work my way round to No 3 then 2 and end up at 1. It did not work out - I found 2 and 1 but 3 had gone. Eventually I found where it should be and fought my way in to the control.

Now for No 5. Surely my luck will change! But I got to the end of the path and instead of turning East I turned West (idiot). By taking different paths I got back to No 2 I was exhausted but I pressed on regardless and eventually found No 5 No 6 was easy - I just followed the path till I reached the knoll.

I ran past No 7 and 8 and had to backtrack. Then I found No 7 hidden behind a hill and No 8 on a steep slope in a kind of valley. To reach No 9 I had to pass the finish and plod up a ride. Then I could go back to the finish.

The whole course was caked in mud and so was I and the controls were hidden so well it took me 15 mins. to find each one. I straggled in after taking about 2 hours but at least I found them all and finished. Hurrah!

Yvonne Mason (aged 14)

(The typist has every sympathy with Yvonne, also having completed the Orange course with considerable difficulty and having failed to get a certificate time by 32 secs. Madam Editor/Controller is this my reward for slaving over a hot word processor??

In fact, it was not my day and may I issue an apology to my son Robert for sending him off in the wrong direction!)

Other opinions engendered by Cromford Moor.

Comment from Roger - father of Cromford (Shirley some mistake) Moor: "I think Cromford Moor should be renamed Less on account of the recommended lengths of the Courses at future events."

Comment from South African rebel "The white bits are nasty".

MANCHESTER CHALLENGE RELAY

TEAM DETAILS

Team details for this relay are given below. Most of the team members have checked their route and the times are based on their estimates.

To avoid having to wait around for runners on the day Winifred Woodward has kindly agreed to provide a telephone service to monitor teams progress until she and Bill have to depart from Winster to run leg 18 for the B team. Would all runners phone Winifred as soon as possible after finishing their leg so later runners can check on their own anticipated start times.

WINIFRED WOODWARD WINSTER (0629) 88 323

MDOC inform me that there are currently eight teams entered for the relay viz MDOC, DEE, WCH, Peristone FPR, NOCx2, DVOx2.

There will be a barbeque in Lyme Park following the event with MDOC providing the cooking facilities. I will bring the DVO tent if you will bring yourselves and food and drink.

Please let me know as soon as possible if any of these details are incorrect so that amendments can be made and reserves called upon. Tel. DERBY (0332) 552664

Day 1 National Event V 'The Double Gloucester'

This was held at Staple Edge, a quite hilly area with plenty of fight. The courses were physically tough but this did not prevent three DVD women, Jo Thornley (W35), Roz Clayton (W21E) and Kim Buckley (W10) from scoring victories. Roger Wilkinson (M40) was second on his course.

Day 2 The British Relays

Crabtree Hill was littered with felled trees and thick brushings, making running difficult in places. However, the worst enemy of the orienteer was the weather, with it raining particularly hard on the early starters.

The M35 trio of Steve Buckley, Roger Wilkinson and Tony Thornley proved unbeatable, and their wives, Judy, Deborah and Jo were second on the W35 course. The DVD team in the women's open came 7th, an excellent result considering that it consisted of only one W21, Roz Clayton, with support from Jenny Tennant (W55) and Zoe Wilkinson (W13). The competition between the three DVD teams in the men's open was fierce, with each team finishing one of the legs in the lead, but they eventually sorted themselves out to finish in their predicted order.

The W13 team of Kim Buckley, Tessa Wilkinson and Heidi Dickinson, the DVD Chicks were 6th and the M13 team of Alistair Buckley, Simon Richardson and Andrew Thornley came 9th. A good performance by these youngsters since most were running up a class or two.

Day 3 The Bristol Chase

This was a chasing start event at Crabtree Hill, based on the results of the National Event. Much more of the area was used than on the previous day and I noticed that people were being more careful with regard to some of the complex contour features that had upset many relay hopefuls. The weather was much kinder than it had been for the relays. The full results from this event are not known at the time of writing, however, there were several DVO members in the top ten on the M21B course.

SUN AND FUN!

Deeside played host to a long-0 and open event based in Delamere Forest, Cheshire on what was (then) the hottest day of '86.

The long-0 was highly successful with nearly a hundred entries. There were three courses, 31 Km, 20 Km, and 10 Km. Dave (I can take the pain) Nevell came highly placed on the 31 Km course, despite injuring himself in the first of five forests. Dave was the only DVOer to do a long-0.

For us lesser mortals there were colour-coded courses. John Seaston achieved the highest position for a junior on the blue and won a trophy. He covered 6.8 in a measley 47 minutes! Big Brother, Paul, took a little longer than 47 mins and Mum had a good run on green.

The great weather was appreciated, but we forgot the sun cream!

Cromford Fun Fell Race 1985 5.5 Km (+180 metres)

Yes, the date above is right. These results follow in the tradition of fell races by being published one year late (see Dovedale Dash) or if you prefer I finally found the results one year after I'd lost them.

The route of the race was from Black Rocks Car Park up to the trig. point then along a path across the top of the area which led back to the incline at the lowest point of the area, then up to the finish back at the car park.

Only 24 people lined up at the start but it proved to be a very competitive race. The field sorted itself out fairly quickly with Dave Nevell in the lead before the trig. point with Tony Thornley, Mike Jubb and myself vying for second place. Surprisingly down the field at this stage were such DVO stalwarts as John Hurley and Roger Wilkinson.

From here on I can only report on the race for second place as I was unaware of what was happening behind me.

Dave Nevell went away quite early and from the trig. point onwards was never seriously challenged. In the meantime Mike Jubb had sprinted to get into second place before the narrow sections along the forest paths. His downfall came though on the very narrow path down to the incline where being very cautious he slowed down quite considerably. Both Tony Thornley and myself were held up slightly as we struggled to get past him. At the incline, however, we had just got ahead and here Tony, having probably warmed up by now powered up the incline to get clear of Mike and myself. After a tussle between Mike and me up the incline I managed to get clear of him over the last fifty yards. For full results see below.

| 23 Tony Berwick | 36.24 |

It is rumoured that John Seaston also started but got lost somewhere on the course.

Congratulations to Dave Nevell and Jo Thornley and also belated thanks to Roz Clayton for putting on the event. I hope that it's not too long before we have another DVO fell race.

Compassport Cup Round 3 *****

DVO re-inforced their reputation as giant-killers on June 8. Following on from our victory over AIRE (last year's winners) at Blidworth, we came up against probably the next strongest club in the Northern zone, South Yorkshire Orienteers. Well, if the AIRE match was a nail-biting finish, after the SYD contest we should all look like the Venus de Milo!

Many members, including myself I must confess, left early, convinced that this was the end of the club's 1986 challenge; but we reckoned without Jenny Tennant who was a late starter on the Green. I must admit to a little gamesmanship here. Jenny is one of those eligible for two classes, Orange and Green, so we held her back to see where she was most likely to score highly, and she came in second on the Green, scoring 5 points. The youngsters on the Orange had run really well, so Jenny would probably have scored less on the Orange.

This was I think the best team effort so far. Every single counter was vital to the club because when the points were totalled, it was 63-63. The tie-breaker is number of class wins: 3 each. So it depended on class seconds: DVO 4, SYO 2. Phew!(as comic characters used to say)

The event was held at Hawksmoor, a small area of great technical difficulty. The Brown course had over 600m of climbing and for anyone with a fear of the brown squiggles it was a nightmare. While it may be unfair to single out any performance for special mention in this wonderful team effort, I feel that Mike Jubb (5 points on the Red which was in fact Green) and David Godfree (4 points on Orange) deserve a particular pat on the back, in view of their lesser wealth of experience in areas of such technical difficulty.

In this event, the important thing is to be at least 1 second faster than one of the opponents. Here we might mention Dave Nevell who was just ahead of Adrian Pickles, Steve Buckley, just ahead of Rik Plumb, and Jenny Tennant just ahead of both E. Shimmin and K. Foster.

It is believed that the regional final will be against Borderliners in September, and then it's the final later in the autumn, with the two most dangerous clubs, AIRE and SYO, already behind us. We must be odds-on favourite now.

Small Areas Development Programme

At present DVO have about 16 areas which are suitable for open events and of these 6 are suitable for Badge Events. The club has a firm commitment to re-map these areas when necessary and continue to hold the popular open and badge events there. However there are a number of small areas within the county which seem to have orienteering potential, which we have not yet attempted to use. Your Friendly Fixtures sub-committee has recommended a development programme to seek access to and to map a few of these areas and use them for small events such as evening training and local weekend events with perhaps a limited number of colour-coded courses. To further this idea we need volunteers for two types of activity:

A. Feasibility

Is the area suitable for orienteering?
What are the boundaries?
Who are the landowners?
Will they give permission?
Where can cars be parked?

B. Mapping

We are not expecting maps up to Longshaw or Chatsworth standards for these areas. Simple black/white or black/brown/white may well be sufficient. The lack of previous O maps to provide a base map is a drawback, but in general the areas should be suitable for novice mappers. Advice will be readily available from the experienced mappers in the club.

I am going to co-ordinate this programme, so anyone who would like to tackle either activity, or both, should contact me. Already Bill Woodward is investigating Stanton Moor and Paul Seaston Harboro Rocks. Rob Newton has volunteered for an area

South of Derby. Other areas on my list are:
Walton Wood Chesterfield
Hardwik Wood, Chesterfield
ShIPLEY Park Heanor
Shirley Park Heanor
Elvaston Castle Derby

Further suggestions will be welcomed

THE WHITE PEAK CHALLENGE WALK

How about a change from hard technical orienteering and dashing about in the woods and doing a course which equates roughly with an orange though a bit longer. Distance approx. 45 kms and ascent 1000 mts or in English 26 miles with 3,500 ft of climbing, checkpoints manned and a superb scenic route in the White Peak.

This is the White Peak Challenge walk being organised from Monyash Nr. Bakewell on 12th July. Starting and finishing in the village it covers a circular route of the hills and dales around the area. There are eight checkpoints to be visited and you can do it as fast or as slow as you wish though the object is to complete the route in 12 hours. The massed start is at 10am.

Trophies will be awarded to the first man and woman home and all finishers will receive a magnificent certificate. A trophy is also to be presented to the first scout/guide/youth club team of 2 to complete the course together. (Sorry there will be no ranking points awarded.)

Arranged as a fund raiser for the local Parish Church it is aimed at everybody over the age of 16, and hopefully will become an annual event. The route is excellent on green lanes and footpaths with lots of scope for route finding. It is an ideal opportunity to sample long distance walking or for the fitter a good day out on the hills amongst some beautiful scenery and with the added bonus on some long slow distance work. We hope to make it a good enjoyable day for all.

Entry forms and details from Mrs S Johnston, Lea Hurst, Monyash, Bakewell.
